

Three women Mrs. J. Taylor, Mrs. E. Sutherland, and Mrs. R. Edmonstone sang 4 lines of Long, Long Ago, and continued with the following as arranged by Mrs. J. Taylor.

Tales of the first Women's Institute meet.
When Adelaide Hoodless saw a great need.

Her tireless efforts are well-paid indeed,
Since long ago, long ago.

Those were the days when there weren't any cars,
Long long ago, long long ago.
Members arrived in their horse-driven cars.

Long flowing gown and a great wide-brimmed hat,
Bustle on back—in the way when one sat.

Shoes buttoned high with a sharp pointed toe,
Long, long ago, long ago.

Mrs. Jas. Gardiner, a true pioneer.

Sixty years ago, sixty years ago.
Mrs. Buchanan, of these two you hear.

Sixty years ago, long ago.
They organized a convention in Grey.

One hundred members attended they say.

Rallies are world-wide and renowned to-day,
We owe it to long ago.

Mrs. E. Knott, County President from the Third Line Institute, St. Vincent, brought greetings from the county and said that anniversaries are times for looking back and looking ahead. She recalled that the first resolution sent to the Department of Health read, "Resolved that bakers be compelled to wrap their bread before delivery." She mentioned some of the worth while projects of women's institutes.

Vocal duets were given by Mrs. J. Howell and Mrs. J. Hutchinson. Mrs. E. Beckett accompanied the members of the duet and trio.

Words of appreciation were voiced by Mrs. G. Taylor immediate past president, thanking those who came, and those who contributed to the program.

Dainty refreshments were served in the Sunday School room. The delicious anniversary cake was made by Mrs. W. D. Davenport and decorated by Mrs. R.
