

Author	Title	Vol.	Page	Blurb
Bigland-Witton, Susan	James Leighton Wilson, Griersville	5	25	This article is about the life of James Leighton Wilson who settled in Griersville in 1856.
Bourdeau, Norma Blacke	The Continuity of the Quest for Freedom: Enslaved Americans Crossing Borders to Claim the Elusive Inalienable Right	1	7	In this article Bourdeau explores the reasons why many Freedom Seekers came to Canada through the Underground Railroad. She also writes about their experience of racism upon settling in Ontario.
Brooks, T.W.	Slavery in Canada: From Olivier Le Jeune to John Baker – A Geographical Survey	2	16	This article documents the ownership and sale of slaves in Canada by geographical region.
Brooks, T.W. & Milligan, Edward	Black Canadians Who Fought for the Freedom of Black Americans	2	20	This article provides information on the Black Canadians who fought in the American Civil War.
Brown, Lorraine	Visitors Can Find Their Grey Roots	2	11	Brown provides information about an exhibit at Grey Roots Museum & Archives called “Do you have Grey Roots”. The exhibit features a computer database in which visitors can see if their surnames match those of early Grey County residents.
Burnett-Patzalek, Patricia	Hugh Burnett – An Unsung Canadian Hero	6	21	Burnett-Patzalek writes about her father Hugh Burnett and the creation of the “Fair Accommodation Practices Act”.
Buxton, Judith	Extending History at the South Grey Museum: A Case for Revitalizing a Community Museum	3	15	Buxton writes about the efforts of the South Grey Museum in Flesherton to expand the History depicted in their museum.
Cathcart, Ruth	Broken Shackles – A Legacy of the Frost Family of Owen Sound	5	7	This article introduces the Frost family of Owen Sound and John W. Frost’s book Broken Shackles – Old man Henson; from Slavery to Freedom .
Cathcart, Ruth	Frances (Molock) Harding: A Profile	5	23	Cathcart provides a short biography of Frances (Molock) Harding who was the granddaughter of escaped slaves.

Cooper, Afua	Ever True to the Cause of Freedom – Henry Bibb: Abolitionist and Black Freedom’s Champion, 1814-1854	3	21	Cooper provides a biography of former slave and abolitionist Henry Bibb.
Cooper-Wilson, Jane	Bond of Blood – An Excerpt from Old Sunnidale Revisited	5	31	Cooper-Wilson writes about the social interactions between Caucasian settlers and the African Canadian freedom seekers in Old Sunnidale Township.
Cooper-Wilson, Jane	By Any Means Necessary: The Silver Shoe Settlement	4	29	Cooper-Wilson writes about the efforts of the Silver Shoe Historical Committee to protect and restore the Pioneer Cemetery.
Cooper-Wilson, Jane	Executive Order No. 13	6	16	Cooper-Wilson writes about the effort to restore the Bethel-Union Pioneer Cemetery in Simcoe County.
Crozier, Clare	Abbott, Lincoln and the Canadian Connection	2	1	Crozier writes the biography of Dr. Anderson Ruffin Abbott. Abbott was the first Canadian-born Black man to graduate in medicine in Canada and lived in Dundas for approximately eight years. Crozier also writes about the friendship Dr. Abbott developed with U.S. President Abraham Lincoln.
Deans, Dorothea	Heritage Article: Daughter of “Daddy Hall” Lived on Pleasure Grounds When Wild Animals Roamed	6	35	This article was first published in 1940 and in it Mrs. Elizabeth (Hall) Hornby recollects about her father “Daddy” Hall and life in Owen Sound.
Densmore, Christopher	And So Thee Still Thinks of Going to Canada Eliza?	6	27	Densmore writes about the Quaker connection to the Underground Railroad.
Foster, Karin	Yesterday’s Ordeal is Today’s Adventure	5	1	Foster writes about a group of cyclists who retraced the path of the Underground Railroad from Mobile, Alabama to Owen Sound, Ontario.
Hahne, Debbie	The History of the Owen Sound Emancipation Day Picnic	4	12	Hahne discusses the 145 year long history of the Owen Sound Emancipation Day Picnic.
Haigh, Ken	Charles Stuart: Abolitionist and Grey County Pioneer	1	15	Haigh presents a biography of abolitionist Charles Stuart. Stuart worked for the British Anti-Slavery Society as a public speaker and writer. He eventually retired in Grey County at Lora Bay.

Hyslop, Joan	From Slavery to Freedom: African Canadians in Grey County – Artefact Highlights	6	5	Hyslop describes various artifacts relating to Black history that are on display at Grey Roots Museum and Archives.
Hyslop, Joan	Guide to the Underground Railroad Sampler Quilt	5	28	Hyslop provides images and explanations of different quilt block patterns with symbolism that relates to the Underground Railroad.
James, Kathleen	The Missing Pages in Canadian History	1		This poem is about the aspects of black history often ignored in mainstream Canadian history.
Jackson, Terri	Greenwood Cemetery “A Land for the Living”	6	11	Jackson writes about the Greenwood Cemetery in Owen Sound where many Black pioneers were interred.
Jackson, Terri	Roots of Freedom Project	5	5	Jackson writes about his involvement in “The Roots of Freedom Project” and its research on Grey County’s historic Black community.
Johnson-deMatteis, Bonita	Celebrating Our Black History: Owen Sound’s Black History Cairn	4	17	This article discusses the meaning behind Owen Sound’s Black History Cairn.
Kennedy, Greta	Chronology of a Black Canadian: Percy Rodrigues	5	35	Kennedy expands on the obituary of Black Canadian Film and TV Actor Percy Rodrigues.
Kennedy, Greta	Early Black Settlement in Normanby Township	2	7	Kennedy examines land grants, census records, assessment rolls, and marriage records for documentation of the early black settlers in Normanby Township.
Kennedy, Greta	The Life and Times of Florence Averill Allen Hobbs	4	19	Kennedy provides a biography of Florence Averill Allen Hobbs.
Mann, Donna (Goodwin)	Pat Johnson: Seeker of Truth	2	4	Donna Mann writes about her childhood memories of Pat Johnson. Johnson, a former slave, lived a solitary life in Wellington County in the 1940s and was known as a fortune teller.
McGirr, Isabelle C.	Thrilling Story of Escape of Louis Craig, Southern Slave, into Grey County	4	26	McGirr tells the story of the Craig family who settled in Glenelg township circa 1850-1860.

				Louis Craig was an escaped slave and his wife was a white woman.
McLean-Wilson, Clare	Town Crier	3	5	This article is about John (Daddy) Hall and describes his duties as Town Crier.
McLean-Wilson, Clare	A Triumph of Will	3	7	McLean-Wilson writes about Owen Sound resident Marisse Scott. Scott was refused enrollment into the nursing program in Owen Sound in 1946 due to her race. Scott told her story of injustice and continued to study nursing in Guelph. Her story helped changed admission policy throughout Canada.
McMullen, Stephanie	From Slavery to Freedom: African Canadians in Grey County	2	13	McMullen provides a short introduction of various Black citizens and their contributions to the early settlement of the Owen Sound community.
Meyler, Peter	Daddy Hall's Incredible Story Through the Years	3	1	Meyler provides several primary source newspaper articles on Owen Sound resident John (Daddy) Hall and examines some of the inaccuracies of these articles.
Meyler, Peter	Finding Black History in Grey County	6	1	Meyler describes numerous historic sites located in Grey County and provides information on many important families who have lived in the area.
Naismith, Emma Scott	Saintly Old "Father" Miller	4	24	Naismith writes about her childhood memories of Owen Sound resident "Father" Miller. Miller came to Owen Sound before the American Civil War.
Niall, Paula	They Came This Way	4	1	Niall looks at the legislation and historical events that helped or hindered fugitive slaves making their escape to Canada.
Norquay, Naomi	America's Instrument: A Short History of the Banjo (Part One)	4	34	Norquay provides information on the history of the banjo in North America and its relation to both white settler and Black musical tradition.
Norquay, Naomi	"Dig Where You Stand": Challenging the Myth of the "White Pioneer"	1	1	Norquay challenges the myth of the white pioneer by exploring the history of black settlers in the Artemesia Township region. She gives examples of how local history has erased the contributions of black settlers in the region and the current attempt to uncover the lost history of the lives of black Canadians in Artemesia in order to achieve a more richer and accurate context to place the white pioneer.

Norquay, Naomi	Joan McNabb: Dramatizing a “Small Part” of the History of the Underground Railroad	3	33	Norquay writes about Joan McNabb and her dramatization of abolitionist Catherine Coffin.
Pickell, E.A.	A Vanishing Colony	3	8	This article, written in 1913, contains Pickell’s reflections of the black Canadians settled along the Durham Road.

Plante, Lisa	Black History Education Programming at Grey Roots Museum & Archives ~ An Interview with Lisa Plante, Heritage Interpretation	6	8	Plante describes the Black History programming that the Grey Roots Museum provides.
Smardz, Karolyn	Memorializing Toronto’s Underground Railroad	1	22	Smardz describes two different projects that relate to Toronto’s African American immigrant heritage and the Underground Railroad. The first is an exhibit “The Underground Railroad, Next Stop, Freedom!” that appeared at the Royal Ontario Museum. The second describes two plaquing ceremonies that marked the beginning and end of Thornton and Lucie Blackburn’s trip on the Underground Railroad in Louisville, Kentucky and Toronto, Ontario.
Tessier, Pamela L.	The Davenport Family: Simcoe County Pioneers	4	31	Tessier writes about the contributions the Davenport family has made to Simcoe County.
Unknown	Heritage Article: Former Slave’s Daughter, Elizabeth (Hall) Hornby, 96,	5	15	In this interview Elizabeth (Hall) Hornby speaks of her childhood memories of the American Civil War

	Born in Owen Sound			and life in Owen Sound. She also tells the story of her fathers escape from slavery.
Unknown	Heritage Article: Old Age: Daddy Hall's Three Century Span	6	33	This article first appeared in the Owen Sound Times in 1897 and focuses on the life of Daddy Hall.
Unknown	Heritage Article: Presque Isle	5	19	This article, written sometime between the mid 1870s and mid 1890s, tells of an excursion and picnic to Presque Isle commemorating the emancipation from slavery.
Unknown	Heritage Article: Mrs. E. Wellwood Dies in Hospital Early Sunday A.M.	5	21	This article, published in 1952, tells of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Wellwood who died at the age of 75.
Unknown	Tragedy of "Nellie Gray" Linked with Owen Sound Colony of Escaped Slaves	3	11	This article gives background to the song "Darling Nellie Gray" and links it to a planned escape from Pennsylvania to Owen Sound.