

The world of LEGO® is back this fall at Grey Roots with the childrens' exhibit *LEGO®: Wacky Animal Kingdom

For Immediate Release – September 11, 2008

Coming off a busy summer which saw visitor attendance up as much as 50%, Grey Roots is set to open another LEGO® exhibit tailored to preschoolers and their families. LEGO®: Wacky Animal Kingdom will be open September 13, 2008, just in time for the Owen Sound Celtic Festival also being held at Grey Roots that same day.

This exhibit brings nature and LEGO® together, featuring animals from all over the world made completely out of LEGO® bricks. Among the many animals to see, there will be tiger cubs, a polar bear, koalas, and a panther! With the exhibit there will be several DUPLO® building stations set up and a "jungle theatre" where children can learn about animals and enjoy varied presentations. This exhibit is ideally suited for children preschool - 6 years old.

LEGO®: Wacky Animal Kingdom is open until January 25, 2009.
